

Key Points from Election Results June-2024

A total of 543 parliamentary seats. Elections were held for 175 Assembly seats in Andhra Pradesh and 147 Assembly seats in Odisha.

In addition to the primary election, there were twenty-five bye elections.

Tamil Nadu, Telangana, Tripura, Uttar Pradesh, West Bengal, Gujarat, Haryana, Himachal Pradesh, Jharkhand, and Karnataka were among the states that held elections. The winners from each party are displayed in the results.

The BJP made a huge return, winning seats in Uttar Pradesh, West Bengal, Gujarat, Himachal Pradesh, and Tripura.

Tamil Nadu, Telangana, Karnataka, Rajasthan, and Himachal Pradesh all saw seats won by INC.

The other parties that performed well were CPI(M), Jharkhand Mukti Morcha, Trinamool Congress, and Samajwadi Party.

The TDP was able to secure a majority in Andhra Pradesh with 135 seats. With 78 seats, Odisha was a BJP stronghold.

A number of parties, including the All India Trinamool Congress, the BJP, INC, Samajwadi Party, and others, secured seats in a number of states.

A detailed examination of the winning candidates and their party affiliations is provided for each seat.

The BJP did remarkably well in Gujarat, Uttar Pradesh, and Tripura.

In Himachal Pradesh, Rajasthan, and Karnataka, INC's success was remarkable. Regional parties like the TDP in Andhra Pradesh and the Trinamool Congress in West Bengal demonstrated significant regional influence.

In several constituencies, the results of the bye-elections altered the political landscape.

The BJP led in terms of seats won, with the INC, TDP, BJD, and other regional parties following closely behind.

Khushi Kumari

RA2111003010483

ka9155@srmist.edu.in